

Selina Moose (Inupiat) Biography

Selina Moose is an Inupiat Native from Alaska. She resides in Anchorage, Alaska with her family, and is currently serving as the Human Resource Director for NANA Construction, a subsidiary of the NANA Regional Corporation. She has proudly served on the Board of Directors for the National Native American AIDS Prevention Center since 2004. Ms. Moose's dedication and commitment to the fight against HIV/AIDS comes from the personal impact HIV has had in her life thru the passing of her brother. Having been personally touched, she has accepted multiple opportunities to speak out on the topic and has been a guest speaker on World AIDS Day, presented at numerous conferences, and has been featured in the video, "Breaking the Silence". Ms. Moose has also served as a Board member for the Alaskan AIDS Assistance Association, and was awarded the Governor's "Removal of Attitudinal Barriers" Award in 2004. She was also Co-Chair of the planning committee for the 2006 "Embracing Our Traditions, Values and Teachings" Native Peoples of North America Conference held in Anchorage.
